General Grosvenor, of North America, was in our city on last Friday, coming as the attorney of one Wheatley, non est, whose trial was fixed for that day. Emmit Tompkins, the legistarian of Law in Athens, and one of the most promising young attorneys of Ohio, attended Court in Logan last Friday. Emmit is one of the young apostles who is lifting "Hell's Half Acre," commonly called Athens, up into sunlight, and pushing on to Paradise. He is not an angel, but is one of the handsomest and one of the most popular wingless legistarians of his platoon city.

The Misses Mary and Kate Kessler have more faith in the robin and blue birds than in theories of comets coming between us and the sun, and believe that spring is here. In this belief they have secured an elegant stock of spring goods consisting of all that is elegant, fashionable and desirable, and invite their lady friends of town and country to call and see their varied and beautiful assortment they have for sale now. The special features for the next week's trade is New Millinery Goods—Hats, Feathers, Flowers, and Ribbons. Work done promptly and to order.

The roof of the James block caught on fire last evening, burning into a blaze in several places. A number of persons with buckets of water got on the roof and kept the flames subdued until the engine began throwing water. The fire originated from sparks falling on the roof.

Mr. Finley Conley and family, of Redfield, will soon remove to Logan, Mr. C. taking a situation with Conley & Higgins.

W. D. MATTHIAS.
Near Enterprise, O.

Uncle Jacob Keller reached the 65th anniversary of his birthday on Friday last, the 20th inst. Louie Kleinschmidt was the only outsider cognizant of the fact, and kept it a profound secret until Saturday morning, when he unceremoniously told the news to John Keller, Andy Ranber, Louie Wetzel, Bishop John Reitenwall, Peter and George Kleinschmidt, Julius Weiss, all the old friends at Brigglesburg, including Nick Bowers, and the Rink news reporter of the Sentinel. If Uncle Jake don't see many more anniversaries of his birthday it will not be on account of the wishes of his old time friends.

Death of Mr. Mahala Nibling.
We note the death, this week, of Mrs. Mahala Nibling, which occurred at her home 2 miles south west of Logan, on Friday last, after a very brief illness. Mrs. Nibling was among the best known old settlers of Hocking county. She was born in Virginia in 1822, and has been identified with Logan people for many years. She was the mother of eleven children, six of whom survive her. Our sympathies are with the husband and family of this good old mother, whose many kind, noble and generous acts will be fresh in the memory of those who know her for many years to come. Peace to her ashes.

A Victory for the Hocking Valley Road.

Cleveland, March 23.—Justice Matthews, of the Supreme court of the United States, has just delivered a petition of interest to railroads. Recently the Central Trust Company of New York brought suit to foreclose $2,000,000 first mortgage bonds of the Ohio Central Railway Company. The Ohio Central, Baltimore and Ohio and Columbus-Hocking Valley and Toledo roads had entered into a pooling contract and the Ohio Central owed the Hocking Valley $50,000 under the arrangement. The Hocking Valley therefore brought in an interviewing petition, asking for the $50,000. The Trust Company said that the pooling contract was illegal, being in restraint of trade and void as contrary to public policy. The case was referred to Special Master Recks who by consent of counsel referred it to Justice Matthews sustained the Hocking Valley road and directs it be paid the $50,000.

Only a Woman's Heart.
Mr. Elwyn Barron says in the Chicago Inter Ocean: There is really a great deal of merit in the play entitled "Only a Woman's Heart," now the popular attraction at the Standard Theatre. It is a story very well conceived and the situation are unusually strong, especially the third act, which is very startling, attractive and well devised. The story is neither conventional nor strikingly original. An escaped convict innocent however, of the crime for which he is imprisoned, is compelled by the villain of the piece to pretend to the paternity of a girl as a means of retaining the liberty he has regained. He presently finds that the girl is in reality his own child, and to save her from the toils of the villain submits to being handed over to the law for return to prison. Four years later he was pardoned, the real culprit having confessed his crime, and made rich by the value of an invention, claimed again the child so fortuitously given into his care, and the play ends with the happy adjustment of all difficulties the villain being in this case dismissed unharmful because of a woman's compassion. The star of the piece is Mr. Newton Beers, a young man in whom there is a good deal of good stuff for making of an excellent natural actor. He acts with a keen intelligence, a fine appreciation of the elements of the parts, and with a spontaneous, honest thoroughness that commands regard and inspires commendation. The charm of his impersonation is that it is frank, manly, full of feeling, rude force yet not without judicious shading in effecting contrasts between the light, vivacious, careless temperament of the first and second acts, the strong, earnest emotion of the third, and the grave, dignified demeanor of the last act. Mr. Beers succeeds in giving genuine tone and color to his work, a pleasing comedy flavor, a purity of pathos creditable to an actor of his years, and full of gratifying promise for the future.

OPERA HOUSE, Monday Evening, March 30.

The Furniture embraces all kinds, from a three hundred to a three dollar set. The goods manufactured are superior to any work of a similar kind done in Columbus and are sold at a price lower than in any town in Ohio.

It will be to the advantage of all our readers who desire bedsteads, tables, stands, furniture of any kind, to call at the establishment, see the goods, and learn prices, before buying elsewhere.

HOUSE BUILDING.
This establishment has engaged in the business of house-building in town-country, a arrangement with this company to have houses built promptly and in any style desired. By employing this company, a work is guaranteed to be done promptly and done according to contract.

The County Paper and the County Post-Office.

Our Columbus correspondent, Col. Taylor, describes exactly the relation of the county newspaper with the county post-office. For fifteen years we have been met in our efforts to extend our circulation by partisan political enemies holding guard duty in the country post offices, using all the influence they could exercise, through their country stores, their social standing and the advantage given them by their official position. Our subscribers know too well how their Democratic paper is reported to them "not come." Hundreds of them have made complaint that their papers are not received, sometimes not for two weeks after publication day.

Last fall we lost some of our best subscribers, because, on opening the Sentinel, the first thing that met their eye was speech of John Sherman, or some vicious Republican campaign document, which the country postmaster or some one by his consent placed in the paper. Col. Vilas, the Postmaster General, has given assurance that these nests of partisans shall be cleaned out, and that the Democratic newspapers shall have a voice in determining the men who shall distribute their papers.

We furnish more mail matter to the post offices than any hundred men of the county, and it is only our civil service rights, and well as political justice, that our claims in this regard shall be heard and heeded.

News From Marion.
Miss Louisa White is again among us.

Miss Amanda Ritters is visiting her friend, Miss Eva Kistler, this week.

Miss Minnie Grille left for Lancaster last Saturday, where she intends to remain the coming season. Miss Mary Vogel has returned home from the World's Exposition at New Orleans.

Protracted meeting is now in progress at the Swartz church. Joe. Weiland has the Kansas fever.

Last Saturday morning the house of Mrs. Lydia Huber caught fire and burned down. The contents of the first floor were saved, but what was on the second floor and in the cellar were burned. The property was uninsured.
On the 17th inst., a party of about 50 gathered at the residence of Jacob Schrader, for the purpose of giving him a birthday party. All came with well filled baskets. The ladies prepared the dinner, and when they called the gentlemen to the dining room, truly Mr. Schrader was surprised. After dinner they gathered around the fire and had a social chat, after which they all returned to their respective homes. May Mr. Schrader live to enjoy many successive birthdays. PANSY.

RINK-INK-TUMS!

Strikes, Struggles and Stumbles at the People's Rink.

The People's Rink was open last Thursday evening under the most favorable auspices. The youth and beauty of the town was there in force, whirling about on the giddy wheels, while elderly matrons and staid fathers crowded the corridors and galleries. The only thing that could have marred the enjoyment was the extreme cold. The management was excusable in not anticipating such a blizzard. The music of "Prof. Recktenwaldt's Band" was delightful, and the new rink was all that was promised.

Saturday night the crowd was even larger than the opening night, the event of the evening being a potatoe pick, in which Tide Houston was the cake taker and winner of the prize.

The leading attraction Tuesday night was a "wheelbarrow race" in which Joe Patterson was an easy winner. Mort Davey deserves a chromo for his pluck. To-night there will be a fat man's race, the expected contestants being Newt Collins, Eli West, Bob Wright and Ed Davenport. The prize will be twelve admission tickets.

Next Saturday evening the lady wearing the oddest apron, will be presented with an elegant fair leather skate bag.

Tim Morarity was there.

Subscribe for the Sentinel, $2.00 a year.

Kate Rochester is a graceful skater.

John Mitchell has never skated yet.

It is a line of beauty that goes around the rink.

Mrs. Wm. Armstrong is a splendid skater.

Chas. Schwenke is right at home in the tickle box.

Lizzie and Maggie Ambuster are beautiful skaters.

Jim Sterrit is one of the best skaters at the rink.

Ella Vanatta skates—well, elegant is what they call it.

Twenty-five that Eli West wins the race to-night.

Jack Floyd don't skate, but he is awful on dancing and things.

Chas. Gould has been engaged to keep track of all fune a processions.

Miss Voris of Lancaster, attended the rink Tuesday evening.

Doc McLaughlin could find a market for magic cure if he would go down.

Gertie Baker and Emma McLain are both beautiful young skaters.

The rink is a bad place for lambs, when the band plays and the boys get frolicsome.

Rosa Shaffer will make a good skater if she only has confidence in herself.

Mamie Bennett must be happy, for when she skates, she smiles and smiles and smiles.

The charm in Hattie Thompson's office is not left behind when she goes to the rink.

When a man gets four or five falls he is reduced to the condition of a "bled owl."

"Cussin'" will not be allowed if you lose every button on your pants, boys.

Mrs. Cowell and Vina Butin stand at the head of the class among the married ladies.

Mary Kittsmaier can out skate her big brother, and Will is no slouch, by the way.

Misses Fanny Bowen and Josie Davenport looked "kinder sweet," if one only dared to say so.

Ollie Wright still falls occasionally, but then my, he has got hardened—in spots.

The clowns are always found near the center pole. George Work is the ring master.

A woman can probably smile as dangerously on skates, so to speak, as she can while hanging over a gate.

Misses Mame Donovan and Mc Bride are enrolled and take their places among the fair skaters at the rink.

If Mandus Reber falls while skating with a lady, he ought to owe up and not lay it onto somebody else.

Frank Harmison skates like Leopold Friday walks, and Geo. Ambuster walks like Harmison skates.

Sunday morning the rink was discovered to be on fire. It is supposed to have caught from a cigar thrown into a spittoon filled with sawdust. A hole three feet square had been burnt when the fire was discovered. Be careful boys.

Noah Goodwin turned him self into floor mop for about one hour Tuesday night, but he finally got there.

Ned McManagal don't need any padded pants in his'n. He keeps copies of the Louisville Courier Journal in his hip pocket.

The fact that brother Willard has not been down to the new rink is taken as evidence that he does not desire to see the Judge make an examination of the "statue."

Chas. Sain, late Kalif from the Syndicate Soudan, succeeding in destroying and kicking down the posts of the guard rail, the opening night. He is an insane Kalif kicker.

The prophecies of the reporter last week were fulfilled in nearly every particular. When the Sentinel says the business men of the city are going to do any thing, it is generally done.

When Andy Crimmins takes the floor the 4th Ward men take a back seat. The Hocking Valley railroad will always be at the front as long as Andy Crimmins and Jim Smith have the run of the rink.

Ed Davenport will be shrouded in the shadow of a button-hole bouquet when he goes into the race to-night. He don't believe in being handicapped with a surplus of clothing on a great occasion.

If Doc Friener gets a supply of pea-nuts over and above what he may need at the next show at the Opera House, he will munch and crunch and crunch and try his tuncful teeth, by pitting them against the music of the band. Its amen and amen.

Rock House Items.

The weather is extremely rough at present, but Providence will certainly grant us better weather soon. Wheat looks very bad in this part of the county.

Mrs. M. C. Croll, wife of Philip Croll, was extremely low with pneumonia, but is convalescing at the present writing.

Daniel Carrel intends to get married and move out west next month. Peace and happiness to him.

A protracted meeting has just been closed at the Nabo church and much good was accomplished. The new Powl church, which was lately raised, and would soon have been completed, was seriously damaged by four of the main pieces being swayed out. The person who will expose the person or persons who committed this heinous deed, will be liberally rewarded.

Henry Carrad is at present learning the shoemaker trade under the special care of Mr. Tom. Hatch, of Gibsonville.

Martin Scavo's now walks around with his hat on one ear, all because it is a girl.

A grand hop was given at Sand Hill a few nights ago, and everything went off nicely, except that several boys got their eyes blacked nicely.

Rev. Lutz intends moving to Mount Crossing, where he can give his time more wholly to the ministry.

Mrs. Hannah Hedges is visiting friends in Oakland, Cal. field Co., at present.

Miss Mary Ogle, a rising young school teacher of this vicinity, will teach the summer term of school at Dry Bridge, Perry twp., this spring.

The Democrats of Laurel twp., held a primary election last Saturday and nominated the following men:

Assessor, Elias Ogle; Trustees, Amos Kline, Henry Seoltz and Jacob Shier. The ticket is a good one and demands the support of the Township Democracy.

A Kidnapping Case.
On yesterday Judge Steinman found a man named Woods, guilty of kidnapping and bound him over to Court in the sum of $200, failing to give which he was sent to jail.

Woods is about 60 years of age, a shoe maker working for Rowley. He boarded with a family named McConnell. The eldest of the McConnell children, a girl about 14 years of age, was the old man's favorite, he providing her with clothes, etc.

On last Monday he went to the school and enticed her to go with him, promising her all sorts of fortune.

They took the train, but had money enough only to pay to Swan where Woods started about the country fixing clocks. A warrant was placed in Policeman Gallagher's hands on Tuesday, who arrested him and brought the two back to Logan. The old man says he wanted to adopt the girl as his daughter. The girl was willing to go away, but when gone repented and cried to come back.

The old man is cranky and the girl evidently not very smart. The Haw-eaters of Hocking county have already been recognized by the Postal service of the United States, as will be seen by the following official from the P. O. Department:

Dr. Williams authorizes us to say that if he does not sell his property this week, which property has been advertised for months in the Sentinel, he will not sell at all. Now is evidently the time to make a bargain with the Doctor.

For Rent or Lease.

I have several tracts of land adjoining the corporation, very excellently adapted for gardening. I will rent at reasonable rates, cash or shares, to any one who will work, and take care of the business. Inquire at the Sentinel office. LEWIS GREEN m19 3wa.

Geo. Fox, the popular butcher, next door to the Rempel house, will remove his shop, April 1st, to the handsome rooms in the front basement of the Collins & Moore block. The rooms will be convenient and in the very centre of the city. They will be cool and clean, and his meats will be free from the dust of the streets, the flies and various other sources of annoyance to which meat shops are subject.

Mr. Fox will keep all kinds of meats and will keep the best. He invites his old customers to keep in their minds the place he removes to, and not forget to come and see him.

SKULL FRACTURED.
Miss Fredricks, a beautiful young lady of Columbus, Ohio, had her skull fractured recently by a fall while roller skating. This could not have happened if her skates had been equipped with the Patent Safety Brakes which render falling an impossibility. They do not interfere with skating. Ladies won't skate without them. Beginners all want them. Good skaters prize them. Send $1.00 for one pair, $5.00 for six pair, and $25.00 for twelve pair. Give name and size of skate used. Agents make $25.00 to $50.00 per day. Write for terms to Agents.
